To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to write a letter of recommendation for Sania Bandekar. I have had the pleasure of teaching Sania during the Spring 2024 semester in my capacity as the Program Manager of the Accelerator at Braven, in partnership with San José State University. The Braven Accelerator is a course and community empowering college students with the tools for a strong career by learning from professionals in small cohorts. Sania has been a dedicated Braven community member and has remained as such since she completed the course.

One of the standout projects that Sania worked on was the Capstone Challenge in partnership with Sutter Health. This group project is a competition between each of our cohorts to develop the most innovative solution to the problem posed by our partner company. The problem that Sutter Health had posed to the students was "How might Sutter Health drive the adoption of Scout by Sutter Health with the goal of getting 3,000 app downloads?".

Sania was the Project Manager for her cohort. Her main role was to keep her cohort on track across the timeline of the project to create a prototype in 4 weeks. This project is a testament to her ability to lead a team across multiple majors and life experiences.

I am confident that Sania will bring the same level of dedication, skill, and passion to anywhere that she may land. Please feel free to contact me at jasmine.sindico@bebraven.org if you need any further information or wish to discuss Sania's qualifications in more detail.

Sincerely,

Jasmine Sindico
